10.50am	English – Eggs have been exploding in the factory because a recipe has been muddled up. Match the root word to the correct prefix to stop the explosion. Then using the words write Easter themed sentences. This document is on the home learning page on our website.	English – Draw a picture of your ideal Easter egg hunt. Now that you have done that: Write a sentence that includes an adjective. Write a sentence that includes a prefix. Write a sentences using inverted commas. Write a sentence using an exclamation mark.	English – During your Easter egg hunt there must've been some interesting commentary been made. Write the speech out followed by using inverted commas. For example; “There’s a shiny, blue wrapper above you,” my sister shouted. Write as many sentences as you can. Remember: use inverted commas correctly.	English – Use ‘a’ and ‘an’ correctly. Decide whether you would use ‘a’ or ‘an’ before each of the following words: egg, parade, bunny, bonnet, egg hunt, umbrella, church, rainbow, chick and Easter basket. Sort these out in a table. Write sentences using the above vocabulary. Make sure you have used ‘a’ or ‘an’ correctly.	English – Complete an activity from the English pack sent home with you.
	REMEMBER: Use capital letters, finger spaces and full stops correctly!
